FROM THE bethel town office

The Town Office and Landfill will be closed Monday, May 31, in observance of Memorial Day.

The spring breezes are carrying more and more sounds of tapping hammers, chugging bulldozers, and the whine of power saws. When we investigate, we often find a neighbor or friend constructing a new home, positioning a mobile home, relocating or altering an existing dwelling or, perhaps, adding a new swimming pool. Being human, thoughts of what kind of threat this new "thing" poses flash in our minds. Will it block my view or change my property value? Does the new "thing" extend over the property line? If the "thing" really is a problem, what procedures are there to redress grievances?

For the past two years, the Bethel Planning Board has been wrestling with these and similar questions. After final honing during the next few weeks, the results of this work will be contained in a proposed building ordinance that will seek to establish minimum construction standards for new construction, alterations, additions, relocation and replacement of buildings. Specific details are not presently available. However, information in the following continued on Page Eight

The Greenwood Fire Dept. Women's Auxiliary held its regular meeting Tuesday evening at the Fire Station. Prizes in the last fund raising drive went to Theresa Coolidge, 1st; Roland Tyler, 2nd; and Danny Davis, 3rd. If anyone needs batteries replaced in their smoke detectors provided by the auxiliary please call Denise Swan. There is no charge for either battery or replacement. Present were Shirley Seames, Charlotte Kimball, Denise Swan, Carolee Roberts, Sally Melville, Flossie Bernier, Lorraine Mills, Maggie Ring, Sandra Swan, Kathy Bartlett, Margery Swan and the honor guest, several sent gifts who were unable to attend.

Mrs. Mary Mills is expected home Thursday after spending several days at Stephens Memorial Hospital where she had surgery to pin a broken ankle suffered in a fall at her son's home. She had been invited there to a supper in honor of her birthday but the fall was one birthday surprise she could have no doubt done without.

Hugh "Cubby" Swan is still unable to return to work after crushing a finger between two rocks while helping at the Historical Society Building almost three weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Ring have returned from a vacation at Warriors Mark, Pa. While there their children, Merry Ring, North Carolina, and Kenna Ring and son, Scott, from Virginia, joined them for a few days.

Ralph Mills, Colchester, Vt., is expected home for the Memorial Day week end.

Saturday, May 22, Margery Swan attended the bird watchers field trip through the Scarborough Marshes and Pine Point with the adult education group at Telesar. Several from Andover, Gilead and Bethel also attended. They also enjoyed dinner at a Pine Point restaurant which is famous for its fresh seafood.

With the return of warm weather and the birds have come the training planes again. I really am like a kid when it comes to planes and enjoy them very much as they fly over. I only wish they went a bit slower because they get faster and faster each year but I get slower and I nearly break my neck trying to get to where I can see them.

There will be a fellowship pot luck supper at the Locke Mills Union Church this Saturday evening, May 29, at 6 p.m. Each family should bring a casserole or salad. Everyone is welcome. This supper will be attended by Michael Caldwell, a candidate for pastor of the Church. This will give people a chance to meet him. Cubes winning awards this past month were Mike Crockett, 1 yellow bead; Todd Swan, 1 red bead; Jeremiah Bolen and Nate Beckman, 1 red bead and Bear Badger, Eric Currier, Bobcat Badger, Ryan Bernier, 1 yellow bead and Wolf Badger, and Ricky Roy (Webelos), athletic pin.

MEMORIAL DAY

Following is the text of the address offered by Warren E. Bouchard, principal of Telesar Regional High School, at Bethel's Memorial Exercises, Monday, May 25, 1981.

"We are gathered here this morning to remember the supreme sacrifice that was made by fellow Americans during times of war. It is also a time to pay tribute to other Americans, some here present, who heard the call of duty, answered that call and have returned to play an active role in the community. Today is also a day of thanksgiving . . . a day when our very presence here was made possible by those men who so valiantly protected our liberties and freedoms.

"There is some disagreement to when the first observance of this holiday was held; however, most historians attribute its beginnings to a school teacher in Petersburg, Pa., the date was June 1865. Nora Davidson brought her class to the Bradford Cemetery to place flowers on the grave sites of Union soldiers. Mrs. John Logan, the wife of General John Logan, 1st Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, witnessed this ceremony and was so impressed that she encouraged her husband to declare a day to honor the war dead.

"Three years later, Logan issued a general order to the Grand Army of the Republic, stating that May 30th be declared a day to pay tribute to the soldiers of the Union who died in combat . . . Decoration Day as it was called was adopted in most northern states.

"At the conclusion of the First World War, the American Legion assumed the tasks that the Grand Army of the Republic had done in preparing celebrations and placing flags and flowers at grave sites.

"As America became involved in other struggles to defend freedom, the holiday was expanded to recognize the contributions of soldiers not only of the Civil War and the Spanish-American War, but also World Wars I & II, the Korean War and the War in Vietnam. The acts of valor and heroism are recorded in history and free people everywhere owe them a debt of thanks.

"What lies ahead for America . . . we have endured an era of crisis from Vietnam . . . Watergate . . . to Iran . . . and we stand as a people proud, united in love of the freedom we enjoy . . . this is possible only because we have had in the past and continue to have a citizenry that is willing to stand and be counted, to answer the call of duty.

"In closing, I would like to share with you the words of Roy Smith in his book 'Lest We Forget' . . . 'No man has ever been independent and as ever man leans on the past. Every liberty we enjoy has been at the cost of martyred blood . . . every achievement

HOBBINS IS RECIPIENT OF NATIONAL AWARD

Clifford Hobbs, a member of the faculty at Portsmouth Abbey School, Portsmouth, R. I., was recently the recipient of one of 13 national awards presented by the Leavy Foundation for excellence in private enterprise education. Hobbs, a former member of the faculty at Gould Academy, was commended for an economics course designed to introduce high school seniors to the language of economic thinking, including visits to the New York Stock Exchange, a working lunch with senior officials at the Chase Manhattan Bank, and a seminar series on campus, entitled "Economic Roundtable", through which leaders of the American business community visited the school. Hobbs received his award and $7,500 cash prize at a ceremony at the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa., in May.

of mankind has been at incredible toil . . . there is not a privilege or opportunity that modern society has given us that is not a product of other men's labor . . . lest we forget . . . we drink everyday from wells we have not dug . . . we are warmed by fires that we have not kindled . . . we live by liberties we have not won . . . we are protected by institutions that we did not set up . . . our government rests upon a foundation cemented in place by the blood of soldiers who trekked through icy battlefields, burning sands and tropical jungles . . .

"To those who returned from the battlefields and support groups . . . this Memorial Day we give you our sincere thanks for protecting our freedoms . . .

"This Memorial Day to manly kind let us pledge to work for peace."

CRESCENT PARK SCHOOL, WAS ACCEPTED BY THE DIRECTORS.

Mrs. Kelly has taught in the S.A.D. 44 schools since the fall of 1971.

Early in the meeting Dr. Wayne Gersen, Superintendent of Schools, reported that the CADET team had scheduled two assemblies, focusing on substance abuse, for the Telstar seniors. The first was scheduled for Thursday, May 27, and the second, Wednesday, June 2 at 1 p.m. in the school's auditorium. It was felt by the team that the two assemblies would have a greater impact than a year-end reception at commencement.

Dr. Gersen also noted that the class of 1982's Baccalaureate program would be held Thursday evening, June 10, in the auditorium and Commencement exercises in the gymnasium on Friday evening, June 11.

At the close of the meeting an executive session was held concerning a site for the proposed new elementary school building in Woodstock, and on matters pertaining to negotiations.

Board member Kay Chadbourne was not present on Monday evening.

The next meeting of the Directors will be held at the Telstar Library at 7:30 on Monday evening, June 7.

43.4% of Maine public high school graduates go on to some type of postsecondary education.

WEST BETHEL Children's Center

Children have been enjoying the warm weather and getting a lot of sunshine the past two weeks. Pole beans, marigolds and tomato seeds that children started in the early spring are now good sized plants ready for outdoor planting in their garden. Children have been learning about rainbows and drawing them with pastel colored chalk. They are also enjoying the water-table, painting, construction paper drawings, and block-building some special creations.

Thanks to the sixth graders in Linda Gilbert's science class the children are also experiencing a fun science project of their own. Cray fish, polly-wog eggs and pollywog fish, and snails have been added to their tank.

Thank you to Pat Parsons for the donation of a miniature log house and to Chris Larson for the garage. A lot of creative play has centered around these additions.

Bethel Inn visitors and NTL participants will have the benefit of drop in Day Care at the Children's Center during the summer months for 2 1/2 to 6 year old children.

The Center will be closed Memorial Day, Monday, May 31. Wishing everyone a safe and enjoyable week end.

Middle Dam, Maine

— Brenda Irish, Corres. —

My family and I would like to say Hi from Middle Dam, Maine. My husband, Len Irish, is the new Dam Superintendent, hired by Union Water Power. I'm Brenda Irish the other of the dam team.

Our boys, Dean and Daniel, make up the rest of the family, with two dogs and a cat.

Our neighbors, Jan Rowe and Stan and Sue Milton run Lake-wood Camps. They opened the week end of the 15th and have been real busy. The new decor in the dining room is green and white, and meals will be served to the public after June. The help for the season is Joyce Gauthier, pastry cook, Newry; Jerri Gauthier as part time waitress, Newry; Denise Bodemer, third summer waitress, Andover, and a June graduate of Telstar Regional High School; Deanne Bodemer, laundry and cabin girl, Andover; Troy Plantier, cabin boy, Andover; Lori Milton, part time kitchen help, Andover.

The students at Sterling Institute located at Craftsbury Common, Vt., have had two wilderness canoe trips, headed by David Brown and Steve Wright. The canoe trip starts at Millbrook Upper Richardson Lake, comes down lower Richardson Lake to Middle Dam. From the dam they carry lampreys and canoes down to Pond in the River and go down Rapid River into Umbagog Lake to the Androscoggin River and finish up at Pontook Rapids.

The smelts run good this year. River fishing has been good, and now the lake fishing is starting.

The Winston Bickfords of West Stoneham were callers at Jo Sanderson's Saturday night.

Kenneth Merrill was here over the week end.

Esther Harriman and sister were in Norway Saturday; took their mother out to dinner and a ride.

Two homes in Slab City were broken into right in the daytime.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weeks returned home from a trip, visiting their children in Tennessee and Massachusetts.

Larry Fox entertained his two boys, Troy, Raymond, also Travis and Missie Fox, Peter's children. Sorry to hear our friend, Ann Landis of Christian Hill, is in the Berlin, N. H. hospital.

Due to repairs on the village church no service is planned for June. They will be at the Center, Arline Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Christopher, were callers at Arthur Weeks this past week.

Robert Kimball worked for Arthur Weeks.

Iva Fox, Ada Malia, called on Enrol and Gertrude Barker, Sunday.

Barbara Lemay's twin sister, Beverly, from Massachusetts, visited Barbara.

Edna and Carl Estes of Bruns- wick were at their farm for a day.

Memorial day in a week now. I well remember spending the day at Hunt's Corner, Albany. Picnic dinner, program, marching to the graves. Hilda Ives was always there. Also most families took just lilacs and apple blossoms for decorations; hardly anyone used the plastic flowers—probably couldn't afford it.

Greenwood City

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —
 — H. Smith, Corres. —

Daylight approaches 15 hours but still I don't find time to do all that I'd like to do.

The trees have spread their can-opy of all shades of green and flowers grow everywhere.

Our northern "mockers" is here with his operatic voice which he also uses for seat-singing. He usually comes with the violets and stays for the fall asters. I heard him first in late evening. This bird of the country home has earned a place and he brings memories of childhood days. Bird notes bring back to us some association, some memory of the past. With the cry of the catbird there comes before my mind's eye the old garden with which, as a child, I was so fami-

lar. I can see gooseberry bushes bordering the brook, the spreading boughs of the apple trees with the sunlight filtering through; the smell of ripening fruit in the air, and the stillness of a summer afternoon broken only by the hum of bees and the complaining voice of the catbird from his shady rereat. But sometimes he poured out his very soul in song.

The Rose-Breasted Grosbeak is at my feeder often and the oriole sings from the ash by the pond.

He even gave me a "send-off" when I left to go fishing in my boat this week.

So many things to see out there; waterstriders, whirligig beetles, flight of the swallows swooping down to drink on the wing, the green of the water weeds, and of course the painted turtles.

This pond surrounded by woods and hill slopes has become my companionable pond. Viewing it from my windows or the driveway

I have developed an intimate relationship with it.

So today, once more, after hundreds of times during my life here

I began another visit on its surface.

I rowed up to the cattail corner and became interested in a blue heron just rising with a fish in its beak.

As I turned around, a muskrat house seemed to be moving slowly and was stranded far from the shore. I had to prove to myself that I wasn't just "seeing things." I found it was a muskrat house. It was moving for it had built on a float which was in the pond last summer. So it was changing its location. Wise muskrat!

The wind was right to move my boat along with little effort on my part, as I headed toward home. I fished and enjoyed everything from the fragrance of the Leather-bush flowers to the "Ter-rump" of the male bullfrog.

The life of the water was awake. And for a whole new season of warmth, I am free once more to enjoy all the little adventures that await on the pond.

We had our last Club Eight meeting at Fay Holt's on Tuesday. On next Tuesday we'll meet for dinner out, then start our meetings again in the fall.

Ralph Leeper from Rhode Island was here at his camp on Friday and returned home on Saturday. He had with him his aunt, Mrs. Edna Donn, Prescott, Arizona; and Mrs. and Mrs. R. Gilbert Owens, from Beaumont, Texas. They were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis. Other callers were: Phil Bentley, Lewiston; Irene Stevens, local.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis called on Carroll Nottage, South Paris, on Friday and Dorothy called to see Edna Tamland at Ledgeview.

Mr. and Mrs. Montie Millett and Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Avery of Pittsfield, N. H., were in town on Tuesday and called on us and other friends.

My niece, Mrs. Lucy Bragg and son, Tommy, West Sumner, visited me on Saturday.

Doris Hayes started on the summer bowling league this last week. At the Hayes Homestead over the week end were Duane Hayes and children, West Paris. Loanne and Joanne spent the night, Saturday, with their grandmother.

Rena Bacon, West Paris, was there on Sunday.

NOTES FROM

Evans Notch

White Mountain National Forest

A steady stream of timber sale activity continues as a result of the timber salvage operations stemming from the Dec., 1980 windstorm. The next timber salvage sales to be offered will be Goodwin Brook Blowdown on June 10 and White Cairn Blowdown on June 15. These will be followed later in June by the Basin Pond, East Branch and Big Bird Blowdown Sales. Interested bidders should watch for the forthcoming advertisements.

A timber stand improvement contract showing will be conducted at 9 a. m. Tuesday, June 1. Interested parties should meet at Hastings Campground on Route 113. Work covered by the contract consists of selected crop tree release on designated units totaling approximately 220 acres. The closing date for quotations is 4 p. m. on June 11.

A reforestation contract was recently awarded to Don DeFlorio from Eugene, Ore. Don's crew is planting mixed softwoods on 79 acres of the Evans Notch District. The reforestation work is being done to replace some of the trees blown down by the December, 1980 windstorm.

Public involvement in the Forest Planning Process is proving to be quite interesting with a wide range of interests being expressed by individuals and working groups. Group activities will be completed on June 15. This is also the deadline for receiving individual public comments. If you have not had an opportunity to submit your comments, please request a Public Involvement Package or come to our Open House, June 3.

Although frequent rain showers provided anxiously awaited moisture for our early season garden vegetables, it hasn't been enough to totally alleviate our concerns for protecting the National Forest from forest fires. The fire danger is monitored daily throughout the late spring, summer, and early fall by Forest managers. Special caution should be used on blow-down areas where plenty of fine fuels are available on dry southern slopes. Should you observe a paragraphs is offered to assist in formulating constructive review of the proposed ordinance when public hearings are scheduled.

The primary purpose of town planning in the United States has been to prevent the negative consequences of unrestricted land development, and to introduce positive practices benefiting the "health, safety and welfare" of our inhabitants. Building codes, health regulations, subdivision control, and zoning have been the chief instruments to this end. Recently, environmental legislation has greatly extended the range of consideration and regulation.

The school of thought that holds that complete lack of regulations benefits the individual is a minority view. The public interest, as it has evolved and been translated into law over the years, is not supported by the lessons of history. With few exceptions, the need for governmentally imposed limitations and requirements is recognized since minimum standards reduce self-destructive competition and support a positive image of individual landowner/developer in the public eye.

On the other hand, complaint of many citizens today is that government rules, regulations and requirements have expanded far beyond those necessary for the proper functioning of the town and the environment desired by its citizens. They believe restrictions have become so excessive that they are self-defeating; preventing improvements and needed development by making efficient project management almost impossible and adding greatly to costs. Regulatory delay, or time taken, to obtain various approvals for a proposed project is probably the "original sin" of proliferating conditions that the individual must meet before being granted a certificate of occupancy exacerbates the situation. Because law enforcement depends in general on voluntary compliance, enforcement of codes becomes impractical and compliance is reduced correspondingly as laws and regulations multiply and become more complex. Confronted with a maze of regulations, the individual property owner is often too confused or discouraged to proceed with a project.

Obviously, the solution to the problem will lie in adopting for Bethel a moderate ordinance that avoids excesses and extremes. Approval procedures, implicit policies, underlying assumptions, and the appropriateness and legality of actions contained in the ordinance must then be examined to determine whether each one is reasonable. Finally, to avoid pitfalls of unrealistic and out-of-date plans, the provisions should exist in the ordinance to periodically review, explain and confirm its contents and effects. Your consideration of the forthcoming proposed ordinance will ensure that a constructive, cooperative balance between the rules and regulations and private enterprise will be achieved.

Tuesday, June 8, is Primary Election Day. The polls will be open at the Bethel Fire Station from 10 a. m. until 8 p. m. The Registrar of Voters will be at the polling place all day to accept new registrations and enrollments and to correct the list of voters. Only registered and enrolled voters may vote in any Primary Election. Registered voters who are not enrolled in the Democratic or Republican Parties may enroll with the Registrar on Election Day at the polling place. Voters who are presently enrolled in a party may switch parties at any time, but switching parties less than three months prior to a Primary Election forfeits the voter's right to cast a ballot in that Primary Election. It is not unusual for a voter to discover that their party enrollment is not what they thought it was or for a voter to be unaware of their enrollment. Anyone with
